BECAUSE WE HAD A CHOICE

Rudy, Zośka, Alek. The heroes of the Grey Ranks. Their tale of youth, love and friendship. Of heroism at great costs and of the battle that became a legend. They were young, they fell in love and wanted to live life to the fullest. Nothing seemed impossible. One day, however, their world fell apart; they had to abandon their dreams. The choice they had to face was to either bow down in humility or to put their own lives on the line.

In spite of their lack of experience and weapons, they found the inner courage and strength to rise against the Nazi occupants in the name of freedom. They were like “stones thrown by God for the ramparts”...

Stones for the Rampart is a screen adaptation of the cult classic novel by Aleksander Kamiński, widely regarded as one of the most important books of the 20th Century.
